Such a Fresh Clean Sensation

In the mouth after you take a Dys-pep-let. Just try one. Crush it between your teeth and swallow it slowly. You can almost immediately feel its beneficial effect. Your stomach seems to say "That's just the help I needed for my big task of digestion." Dys-pep-lets sweeten and strengthen the stomach, prevent sourness and gas inflation and promote the natural functions. ## A Mock Wedding

The Ladies' Aid gave a very pleasant social at the Town hall on the evening of Feb. 22. A short program was given by the children, which showed the result of their excellent and thorough training by Mrs. Anna Board. These exercises were followed by a mock wedding in which Miss Gertrude Wilbur and Dr. Maurice were united for the evening by A. L. Laraway, the Rev. J. H. Wells being in Montpelier attending to his duties there.

The bridal party entered the hall to the strains of "I want to get married, Ah, Mamma," and proceeded slowly down an aisle formed by white ribbons carried by the flower girls, Mrs. B. A. Hill and Mrs. Grant Thomas. The ushers were Mr. B. A. Hill and Mr. Grant Thomas. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Leonard Langdell and was followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. Daniel Bennett, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Olga Smith. They were met in front of the stage by the minister, the groom with his best man, Mr. Ford Stearns, and the ring bearer, Mr. George K. Marsh, who carried a towel ring on a large serving tray.

Mr. Laraway rendered an adaptation of the Episcopal ceremony in a pleasing manner and during the congratulations which followed, Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. Board sang, with much feeling, Billy Oh! Billy Boy!

The bride was beautifully dressed in white embroidered tulle, made train and carried a large bouquet of tiger lilies. The veil was fastened with white poppies and a star of diamonds was a gift from the groom and the only ornament worn by the bride. The flower girls wore white and the matron of honor pink over white and the bridesmaid lavender. The groom wore in his buttonhole a large poinsettia.

After sincere congratulations had been extended to the bride, refreshments of popcorn and apples were served and the happy couple separated by mutual consent, so it may be expected that "they will live happily ever after."

Mrs. Myra Currier

Mrs. Myra Currier, whose recent death and burial was noted in this paper recently, was born in Waterville in 1857, the daughter of Josiah and Phibara George. Her childhood and early girlhood were passed in the town of her birth. She was married in 1855 to Barney W. Currier, and the greater part of their married life was spent in Johnson and Hyde Park. For thirty years previous to Mr. Currier's death, ten years ago, they lived on the pleasant farm known and owned by Fred Crowell. Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Currier, three of whom are still living, Fred of Richmond, Rosalie of Johnson, and Mrs. Lennie Sargent of Hyde Park; Almira, aged four months, and Vinnie, aged 14 years, died several years ago. Mrs. Currier was a good Christian woman and much respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the Advent church at North Hyde Park. While her failing health for the past few years confined her at home a great deal of the time, yet her interest in everything good prevailed. While she will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, yet it is in the home circle her absence will be felt the most.

Gone—and the world to go on as before! Gone, with a smile from the old homestead door.

Dear faithful heart, to come back nevermore, Oh, sad, nevermore.

Gone—and the seasons still to come and go! We're reaching her grave in blossoms and snow! Snow on the loom that sheltered us so, Cruel and pitiless snow.

Home is not home, for mother is not there, Dark is her room, empty is her chair; Now will she rest from her labor and care, Till that morning so fair.

Oh, dear eyes grow dim from tears, Gazing on untold feet through the years, Dreaming our future with hopes and with fears, Drying our falling tears.

Sleep, mother sleep, with your hands on your breast, Poor, weary hands, they needed their rest; We'll have you loved you, but God loved you best.

'Tis thy God giveth rest.
